Southern Wisconsin Scholastic Shooting Conference Mission and Principles

Mission

Our mission is to instill in young people a respect for good sportsmanship, competitiveness, cooperation, teamwork, and high moral character through shooting competition.

Core Principles

The Southern Wisconsin Scholastic Shooting Conference was formed to create in young people a set of personal values and character traits such as fair play, integrity, compassionate understanding, individual responsibility, self-discipline, and personal commitment - qualities necessary to become successful and contributing members of society.

Competition is an important part of the conference, but it is not the program's underlying principle. The "win-at-all-costs" philosophy has no place in this conference. Striving to win while playing by the rules does. It is the DUTY of everyone involved - coaches, parents and participants - to be role models for team members to emulate, by upholding high moral and ethical standards of personal conduct.

Our conference embraces and upholds all the rules, guidelines and standards of conduct which are listed in the Scholastic Shooting Sports Foundation's Handbooks, Coaches Guidelines, and Sportsmanship Contracts.

(See <http://sssfoonline.org/scholastic-clay-target-program/sctp-downloads/>)

The safe, responsible handling and use of firearms is the foundation of our organization and an absolute requirement for all who participate.

We believe that competitive shooting can be used as a vehicle to teach and instill our core principles.

We believe that the mastery of several competitive shooting disciplines provides the greatest opportunity for High School athletes to transition to collegiate and/or international competition if that is their chosen goal.

We believe that competitive shooting is a gender neutral and disability inclusive, life-long activity that families can enjoy together.

We believe our conference can bring communities together through interscholastic shooting competition.
